Super-premium vodkas these days can command $60 or more a bottle. That's why Sobieski Vodka is a welcome new addition to the market at its affordable price tag of only $10.99. Named after a Polish monarch, Sobieski is produced from rich Dankowski rye, crystalline water from Oligocene springs, and distilled at a 150-year-old distillery in Poland, the country that is considered the birthplace of vodka. The vodka is highly regarded for its pureness and smoothness, and at recent blind tasting conducted by the Beverage Testing Institute was ranked no. 1 out of 108 premium vodkas.
